OFFICE IN THE STATE. J. W. SCHARTLE,

What Is Popularly United "Nerve."

Yesterday a lady walked into an up town doctor's office and asked permis sion to use his telephone. The gentle-manly physician acquiesced with pleasure, but was somewhat astonished to hear his visitor cal: up another doc-tor's office. She had some difficulty with the telephone and requested the doctor to do the talking for her. First she wanted him to tell his brother practitioner, Dr. G., that she was sick and that she would immediately down to see him.

"Great Scott!" ejaculated the latter,
"don't send her down here. She has

In terms the most suave the docto told his visitor that Dr. G --- would be unable to see her, but that she might do well to see Dr. B.—.

"But tell him that it is serious, and that I must see him," she said. The doctor made another effort but heard the man at the other end o the line hanging up his receiver in a most desperate fashion. The woman finally confided to him that she guess ed she would go up street and see an other Dr. G.—, who she was sure would comfort her ills.

The doctor whose office was thus in vaded found it necessary to take a long rest to recover from the shock which he afterwards said was given to him by witnessing so severe and aggra-vated a case of merve. He subse quently found that not long before the same patient had gone into one

It is a common thing for engineer to use kerosene to remove the scales which form on the inside of boilers The oil is poured into an empty boiler and then the water is turned on.
